

Fayetteville City Schools launches new mobile app, FCSBOE

Parent and community engagement enhanced with new district mobile app

The latest news, information and updates from schools in the Fayetteville City School System are now available on smartphones and mobile devices with a new mobile app which has launched. FCS is partnering with Blackboard to expand its communications outreach with a mobile app that is now available in the App Store® and Google Play® app stores for free.

The mobile app will offer a constantly updated feed of district news and events with photos and links to the district's website. The app can also be customized by the user by selecting the schools they are most interested in for news and updates. Users can also choose to receive push notifications to get breaking news, updates about school closures and calendar changes.

“We know that our students are more successful in schools when parents are engaged in their learning and school activities,” said Bill W. Hopkins, Jr., director of Fayetteville City Schools. “With our new mobile app, parents and community members can stay connected with our local schools and with the activities our students are engaged in every day.”

Parents and the public are encouraged to download this free mobile app to their smart devices at the App Store or Google Play.
